If You Need to Surrender Your Pet

This information is provided for your convenience only. These shelters or rescue groups may or may not accept your pet; we have no agreements with these organizations and cannot make any guarantees. We strongly suggest that you contact them immediately, because they may have a waitlist for intakes. Rarely, if ever, will a shelter or rescue be able to take your pet right away. If your dog is not well-socialized, we recommend looking for a rescue group that specializes in your dog's breed (search via Google). Most organizations can't accept dogs that have bitten people or pets due to liability.
